Subject: [EXTERNAL] Agenda for Environmental/Climate Change community committee

During my research for the Ecological committee, I observed that Conservation Authority watershed assessment documents clearly recommend resampling/monitoring subsequent to these assessments. I have not been able to find reports of such reassessments.

I, therefore, propose an agenda item to discuss and, if agreed, executive summaries to be provided to the committee of these reassessments. If the reassessments have not been done, when will they be done?

These reassessments are critical to assess the effect of development on watersheds to determine if climate adaptations have been implemented and, if so, have been effective. If changes from baseline are determined, what measures will be taken: when and by whom?
