

The City of London needs your input to improve walking in your neighbourhood

Date: May 26, 2023

To: Resident, business and/or property owner

The City of London is committed to providing safe, convenient and accessible mobility choices for all residents. As part of this commitment, the City has identified several local communities that would benefit from the improved connectivity that sidewalks provide.

We're contacting you because City Council has directed staff to develop a "Neighbourhood Connectivity Plan" for your area, which will identify where new sidewalks can provide the most value – and we are seeking your input.

Your feedback will be critical to helping the project team understand your community's priorities around accessibility, connectivity and pedestrian infrastructure, including establishing who in your community can benefit from sidewalks. Specifically, your input will help us:

- Identify important community amenities, destinations and features
- Understand how you use your neighbourhood now – and how you want to use it

A map is provided below illustrating the boundaries of your Neighbourhood Connectivity Plan. There are several ways community members can provide input before the public consultation period closes on July 15, 2023:

- In-person event at Stronach Community Recreation Centre on Tuesday, June 13, 4:30 – 6:30p.m.
- Webinar presentation and Q&A discussion on Wednesday, June 14, 12 – 1p.m.
