

If we must have fireworks, I favour option B. Ultimately we should be relegating fireworks to the history books. They are frightening and unnecessary in today's world.

Marian Robinson