

Committee: London Advisory Committee on heritage

Organization/Sector represented: 1 of 3 at large

Name: Carson Rennick

Address:

396 Queens ave. apt# 911
London Ontario
n6b 1x8

Occupation: Union Steward for LIUNA local 1059

Work experience: I have 14 years construction experience ranging from Historical Stone Restoration on sites around London (St.Peters Seminary, St.Paul's Cathedral, St.Mary's Church), to high rise construction to the Demolition of St Joseph's original hospital (2012/13)

Education: Attended Westminster S.S., Guild institute of Stonemasonry and Restoration. 14 years of construction in and around London. Currently a Union Steward for LIUNA 1059.

Skills: I have 9 years of union experience in the construction trade as well as 5 years in Historical Restoration and Residential Restoration.

Interest reason: This committee interests me in a handful of ways. First being a passion of the architecture and history of local buildings, another being that my professional career has revolved around restoration, building and demolition of building in and around the London area for 14 years. Most importantly my desire to give back to the communities and city that has provided me a comfortable life and serve them any way I can with the best of my skill set.

Contributions: I believe I would bring in a different perspective due to my work experience and education in Historical Restoration. As well as my experiences within LIUNA.

Past contributions: Joint Health and Safety Committee member(registered) as well as Workers Trade Committees on a handful of large construction sites.

Interpersonal: I have a lot of experience dealing with and resolving many workplace issues between management and workers as a Union Steward. Also, being a member of a handful of Worker Trade Committees sending recommendations to the JHSC to speed up procedures, streamline efficiency, coordinate time schedules and health and safety issues between trades. Being a certified Joint Health and Safety Committee member professionalism is expected. Dealing with safety concerns and trades can bring a lot tension between employers/supervisors and workers and MOL from time to time.

Interview interest: Yes
