BACKGROUND

In 2011, the City entered into an agreement with the Western University to provide $10 million in funding to facilitate the development of an International Composite Research Centre (Fraunhofer Project Centre for Composites Research).

In accordance with Section 7 of the agreement between the City of London and Western University, the University shall, “annually, for 10 years from the date of this agreement, report to the City on the Success Metrics, which report shall provide such information on the Metrics as is reasonably available to the FPC and the University. For 10 years from the date of this agreement, the City shall be entitled to make reasonable inquiries for information for analysis of the Success Metrics, beyond that provided in the annual report, and the University shall be obliged to respond to those reasonable inquiries.”

Attached as Appendix A is Western's annual update on the progress of this initiative.
