

As a North London resident I am in support of the upcoming proposal to de-list the home at 1927 Richmond Street from the Register of Cultural Heritage Resources.

As I understand it, this site is the proposed site for a new Catholic High School. The North end of the city is in desperate need of more schools as all of the nearby schools are bursting at the seams. Considering the monumental development occurring North of Fanshawe Road the pressure on these institutions is increasing dramatically with no solution in sight. Education is the foundation upon which we build our future and we need to seize these opportunities when they present themselves. This is a chance to plan ahead and proactively solve a growing problem without kicking the can down the road.

This property is the perfect location for a desperately needed new high school and I wholeheartedly support removing the home from the Register of Cultural Heritage Resources and to invest in our community's future.
