

Committee: Cycling Advisory Committee

Organization/Sector represented: Member-at-Large

Name: Roy Wood

Address:

51 Brentwood Crescent

Occupation: TD Bank - IT Specialist

Work experience: I am currently employed by TD Bank as an "IT Specialist." This role involves a broad range of responsibilities related to the design, implementation, and support of in-house banking applications at TD. I previously worked for Davis and Henderson as a software architect and developer, and also worked as a high-school teacher.

Education: Graduate of University of Waterloo with a BSC in Physics and Computer Science Bachelor of Education from Queen's University

Skills: I have commuted to work by bicycle in London for the past 13 years and also ride recreationally in the city. I am also active with the London Cycle Link group.

Interest reason: I would like to participate in the ongoing development of cycling infrastructure in London, and hope to represent the point of view of an average cycling commuter.

Contributions: As someone who rides regularly in the city as a commuter and recreational rider, and know many other cyclists who do the same, I hope to bring insight into the needs of regular cyclists in London.

Past contributions:

Interpersonal: I previously worked as a high-school teacher, so I am very experienced with working productively with a diverse group of people. And according to my managers in the IT world during the past 18 years, I am an "excellent team player" (sorry-- that phrase drives me crazy, too).

Interview interest: Yes
