

Committee: Striking Committee whose mandate is to make recommendations to the Strategic Priorities and Policy Committee on appointments to London's Advisory Committee.

Organization/Sector represented: none

Name: John P Palmer

Address:

19 King St

#602

London, ON N6A 5N8

Occupation: economist/actor/retired

Work experience: I am mostly retired now after having taught economics at The University of Western Ontario for 40 years. I have also taught at Guelph, Hawaii, Regina, and BISC. Lately I have been doing some acting in and around London. My most recent areas of teaching included Economic Analysis of Law and Economics of Sports

Education: PhD, Economics, Iowa State University, 1971 BA, Economics, Carleton College, 1965 Past-President, Canadian Law and Economics Association

Skills: I have an extensive background in policy analysis, including publications on the impact of sports and the arts on local economies.

Interest reason: I have been very active in the past, and I have a lot that I can give back to the community. We live downtown and love our lives here. This positive, forward-looking outlook will surely be of benefit to the city.

Contributions: I'm an economist with experience teaching at the Ivey Business School. Economists with this outlook try to look at comparing feasible options. We try to avoid propounding policies that are not well-grounded in reality.

Past contributions: Many university committees. Also, many years ago, I made a successful (unpaid) presentation to a City of London committee in support of licensing limousine services in London.

Interpersonal: I write a blog [www.eclectecon.net] with postings nearly every day. Also, it is next to impossible to live in a condo (as we do) without working together as a community to solve problems.

Interview interest: Yes
