Contract for Banking Services, January 17, 2007, Board of Control

BACKGROUND
-------------------

The Bank of Nova Scotia (Scotiabank) is the current vendor for banking services. Their current contract, awarded under the Request for Proposal (RFP) process in 2002, will expire April 30, 2015. Civic Administration is currently working through the RFP process for the next five year term. To ensure continuity of banking services during the RFP process, staff are requesting a six (6) month extension to October 31, 2015, with twelve (12) renewal options on a month-to-month basis for up to twelve (12) months.

Purchasing Process

RFP15-05 for Financial Banking Services, issued on January 22, 2015, requested a successful Proponent to enter into a Term of Engagement with the City of London for a five (5) year period, with an option to renew the contract for up to an additional five (5) year term.

The RFP closed on February 24, 2015. The RFP evaluation team will be reviewing and evaluating the proposals during the month of March and are targeting a recommendation of award to the successful proponent in April 2015.

If the current vendor is the successful proponent, staff would only require this extension until the new contract could be negotiated and signed. If another bank is the successful proponent, this would allow the City transition time to move the banking services to the new vendor in stages.

The approval of the contract extension is being requested under the Procurement of Goods and Services Policy, Schedule B, Section 8.iii, which relates to certain professional and special services, such as banking services, up to $100,000.

Financial Impact

The estimated annual financial impact of $48,000 is covered in the annual operating budget.
