

Hello,

The City for All Women Initiative (CAWI) in Ottawa launched their, Advancing Equity and Inclusion guide for Municipalities yesterday. This was a partnership between several municipalities, FCM, the Status of Women Canada and many other organizations across the country. It is a comprehensive guide on how to advance inclusion and equity in Cities at an administrative internal level and also within the community.

Women & Politics has previously discussed this initiative and work of CAWI with Mayor Brown. I think our committee may want to review the guide and see how it may inform the City's equity and inclusion strategy.
