

Mayor's Advisory Panel on Poverty: Community Conversation

Help us make recommendations that make real change.

The Mayor's Advisory Panel on Poverty has six months to develop recommendations on what more we can do to address poverty in London.

These recommendations will only work if they are the community's recommendations. On November 12, we began a month of listening to, learning about, and aggregating the community's collective understanding of gaps, barriers and solutions for poverty in London. At our first community conversation on November 12, over 100 people from across London shared their voice. If you were not able to attend the first conversation, or would like to learn about what we've heard over the past month, please join us on December 10:

Registration Information: Community Conversation

When: Thursday, December 10, 2015
4:00pm – 6:00 pm

Where: Goodwill Industries (255 Horton St. E)

Child-minding available.

Registration is encouraged: <https://mayorsadvisorypanelonpoverty.eventbrite.com>

We want to hear from you to help us make recommendations for real change. There are many opportunities to share your voice:

- Nov 12 - Dec 10
 - discussions for people with lived experience hosted by partner organizations – details provided by partners
 - online feedback through www.london.ca/povertypanel
- Dec 4, 9am-12pm & Dec 9, 1pm-4pm
 - delegations for formal presentations to the panel (London Public Library Central Branch)
 - space is limited – register by contacting povertypanel@london.ca
- Dec 10, 4pm-6pm
 - Community Conversation (Goodwill Industries)

More information: povertypanel@london.ca

www.london.ca/povertypanel