The second best time is today.

Trees as a Strategic Priority

ReForest London
2016 City of London Budget PPM

January 21, 2016

Trees are Good

London Needs More Trees

City has an Tree Canopy Target

Trees Take Time to Grow

Trees are multi-faceted, multi-function technology

They provide many benefits:

- Environmental
- Human health (physical and mental)
- Economic
- Community cohesion
- Quality of Life

(some) Benefits of Trees

- ✓ Cleans air and water
- ✓ Provides habitat and boosts biodiversity
- ✓ Reduces stormwater flows
- ✓ Shade prolongs life of asphalt and roofs
- ✓ Enhances neighbourhood sense of place and identity
- ✓ Encourages physical recreation in parks and along pathways
- ✓ Shadier and cooler streets promote walking and playing outside
- ✓ Respiratory disease is decreased
- ✓ Mental health is improved with exposure to nature
- ✓ Well-treed streets even experience less crime
- ✓ Well-treed commercial areas attract more shoppers who shop for longer
- ✓ Enhances our resilience to climate change impacts
- ✓ Trees and natural areas are big component of quality of life. Quality of life attracts mobile workforce talent.

What's Missing so far?

🍃 Budget Resources to Accomplish

The 2016 Business Case is a very small piece of what is required to accomplish City targets.

So we need to get started THIS YEAR by funding the entire business case

Starting Now is Urgent

- 🌿 We are trying to climb back to 2008 canopy levels
- 🌿 Trees take time to grow
- 🌿 Urban Forestry Strategic Investment is only a small step but it at least it's a step forward
- 🌿 The sooner we start the less it costs, the more benefits we get and the more we save

Our healthy and resilient future is depending on us
