

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with regret that I must resign my voting member role on the Accessibility Advisory Committee. When I submitted my application in late 2014 my work/life would accommodate this volunteering commitment. In a sudden and surprise move I received the announcement email in November 2015 appointing me to the role, I did my best to be of benefit to the City of London as a full time student and holding this role, and attending the meetings outside of my class times.

I am now working full time in the Non Profit sector and the hours of the meetings are conflicting with my work schedule.

Effective immediately I cannot continue on the Accessibility Advisory Committee.

Regards,

Julie Quigg
