Interest reason: City of London has been my home since 2008. I have seen problem areas and situations that make me want to play a part in creating and finding solutions to making this city that best it can be. I want to contribute to this city's future.

Contributions: -Owning my own theatre company since 2009, I have created a reputation of being someone people can trust, confide in and work with. -I enjoy bringing people together, closing communication barriers and creating harmony in groups of people. -I also volunteer with local groups in the theatre community and not-for-profit organizations. -I am a young face hoping to grow with London and contribute in any way I can.

Past contributions: -Student Body Organizer, Fanshawe College -Board Member for Dramatic Arts with Artistically Speaking Out Against Bullying -Owner/Director, Maybles' Productions -Landscape Design presentations to members of the City of London and Clients

Interpersonal: -It is important in any group setting to acknowledge and appreciate all views and experiences brought to the table. -In class and working with the theatre community, I have always encouraged others to discuss their opinions and ideas. By encouraging and supporting others to voice their ideas, more ideas are brought to the table. -I believe everyone can benefit from exploring many opportunities even if they seem extreme or far-fetched. "It takes guts to do things differently." - Cornelia Hahn Oberlander
