

I support this initiative to change things in the unassumed neighborhoods.

I can say I would never build a new house in London again given the experience I had unless changes occur.

Scott Beaumont