

Dear City Clerk:

Some loosening of the noise restrictions for special events like Rock the Park could actually be beneficial to the City of London economically and culturally. I'm in agreement with those who favour a little more compromise on this issue. You would see more trouble with a hockey game than these events which draw a mixed crowd of folks. What happens on New Year's Eve here?

Regards,

Nadine Marothy