

Committee: London Police Services Board

Organization/Sector represented:

Name: Jim Jacob

Occupation: Software Engineer

Work experience: Current employed by London Life as Software Engineer and CTO of Acesoft Technologies. Past experience includes Computer engineer for Microsoft-VMC and Chrysler-Autodata. My non-professional work experience can be found in other data point captured in this form.

Education: Masters in Computer Applications. Post Graduation in Computer Science. Certification in Economics, CS from Stanford University. Bachelors in Accounting and Finance.

Skills: Served as community Coordinator and VP for South Indian association in London Ontario. Serving currently as community Member representative of TVDSB. Was part of Strategic inclusion program committee held by City of London. Living in London for last 12 plus years.

Interest reason: Since people from India/middle east are coming to London in big numbers , I would like to be their voice in Police Services board. Since I work closely with many new immigrants and the police culture is different from where they came, I would like to present to them that London Police is approachable when required.

Contributions: Since our city's population is growing, especially people from India/Middle east etc and they are afraid to contact police (police - public relationship is very different in the country where I comes from) and I would like to introduce and reinforce that London Police board is to serve and protect them as well.

Past contributions: Worked with many bodies of city for the upliftment of new immigrants. It worked wonders and our team was able to create many productive and successful Canadian citizens by bringing them out and getting them introduced to our culture here in Canada. Also an active member and community coordinator for Indian association as well as community representative for Thames Valley Board.

Interpersonal: With my experience working with various organizations, I believe each and every individual has great potential to bring amazing ideas to table. I believe exchanging ideas should be with utmost respect to audience and same time ensuring them that we all belong to one team and that team's goal is the success of our city and our country.

Interview interest: Yes
