

Committee: Diversity, Inclusion and Anti-Oppression Advisory Committee

Organization/Sector represented: Fanshawe College

Name: Cori DuHasky

Occupation: Professor, Indigenous Liaison

Work experience: I have been teaching for 11 years at Fanshawe. I have a degree in Disability Studies and am currently the Indigenous Liaison for the School of Community Studies

Education: I am an Ontario Certified Teacher with additional qualifications in Special Education. Degree in Disability Studies, Diploma in Developmental Services, Master's Degree in Educational Psychology. I have received suicide prevention training from the TEND Academy.

Skills: I currently provide trauma-informed care through Atlohsa for Indigenous women who have been trafficked. I am currently the Indigenous Liaison for the School of Community Studies at Fanshawe College to support faculty to utilize Indigenous Pedagogy to create a safe space for our Indigenous students.

Interest reason: I am an ally and am interested specifically in creating a culturally safe space for Indigenous people in my community at the post-secondary level as well as for women in our community.

Contributions: I would like to be part of the knowledge translation to increase Universal Design for teaching and learning, making our community more accessible, and culturally safe for everyone.

Past contributions: I also teach for Sunnybrook hospital as a part of the Women's and Babies Department (PAIL Network) and contributed to curriculum development, policy creation and implementation. I support medical professionals and support staff to provide care to grieving families through the delivery of Compassionate Care Workshops.

Interpersonal: I have worked on inter-disciplinary committees in the past for school boards (TDSB), for Fanshawe College and for community organizations. I currently teach post-secondary students how to be a part of an interdisciplinary team.

Interview interest: Yes