> I am writing to express our (my husband and children's) great displeasure at the loss of natural space due to City sprawl. The above mentioned project will needlessly take down trees, damage the soil and earth around which is home and habitat to many of nature's creatures.

>

> Why can't developers be made to plan around trees? Why can't they be made to incorporate the nature that is there, that is no doubt older than they are???

>

> I am truly disheartened at the continued loss of natural space due to more houses. There is absolutely no reason why the existing trees in this area can't be incorporated for a more harmonious home for all of nature's beings.

>

> Also, why are they not held to account to CLEAN UP! The garbage left by workers, not only from their meals and coffee breaks but also construction debris... it is disgusting. The black fencing/netting put up remains for years - why aren't the developers held responsible to take this down?

>

> Additionally, as we as a planet need to be looking for greener solutions to preserve our world; what public transit is being put in place to not make everyone car dependent in this new subdivision?? What plans are there for electric car charging stations??

>

> I am saddened by the lack of vision shown by our great City and these developers.
