Hellmuth Boys' College Heritage Interpretive Sign

Mark Tovey, PhD
Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of History, Western University

London Advisory Committee on Heritage June 13th, 2018

Good evening. I'm here tonight to tell you about a prospective Heritage Interpretive Sign about Hellmuth Boys' College being developed by the Culture Office at the City of London. Our hope in bringing this project to your attention is that the Education sub-committee of LACH would be willing to look at the draft text for the sign when it is ready. My name is Mark Tovey. I am a postdoctoral fellow in the Department of History at Western University, working in partnership with the Culture Office. My postdoctoral study area includes the Bishop Hellmuth Heritage Conservation District.

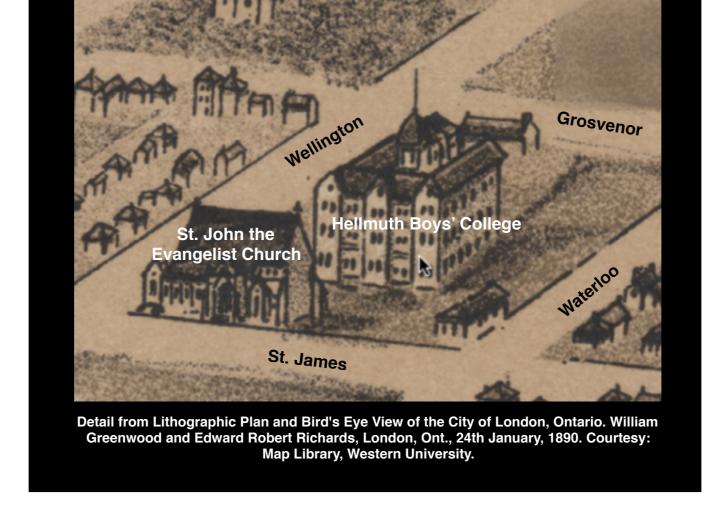

This is the Bishop Hellmuth Heritage Conservation District.

It was so named because it sits on the grounds of the former Hellmuth Boys College, which was for a time, the first home of Western University.

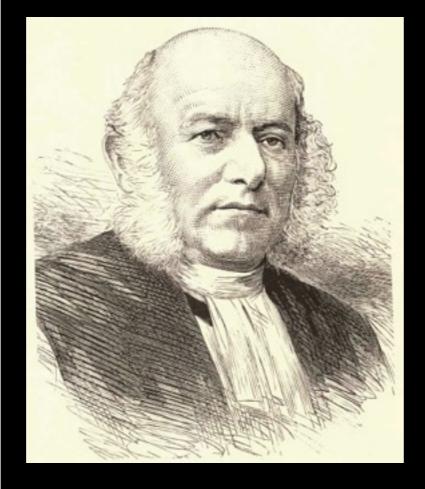

The Bishop Hellmuth Neighborhood Association has requested a Heritage Interpretive Sign, similar to this interpretive sign for Richmond Row, for which I did the research. As you can see, interpretive signs include both images and text. I have been asked to do the research for the Hellmuth Boys' College Interpretive sign, which I am undertaking under the umbrella of my postdoctoral research.

To further help situate the Boys College building, for a time, St. John the Evangelist Church (built in 1888) and the College (demolished in 1894) were both situated on the block bounded by Wellington, Waterloo, Grosvenor, and St. James. Detail from Lithographic Plan and Bird's Eye View of the City of London, Ontario. William Greenwood and Edward Robert Richards, London, Ont., 24th January, 1890. Courtesy: Map Library, Western University.

Again, to situate the Boys College, this is the view looking south from Hellmuth Boys College shortly before the College became the first campus of Western University. In the foreground on the left is the College's circular drive, exiting onto St. James Street. The muddy street that emerges from the bottom right corner is Wellington Street. In the distance on the left is the Crystal Palace Barracks. In the centre distance is the Infantry Barracks of the British Garrison. On the right in the distance can be seen St. Paul's Cathedral. Image: View of Central London including Crystal Palace, Military Barracks (now Victoria Park) from Hellmuth Boys College. Courtesy: Western Archives, Western University, RC60179.

"Principal Hellmuth
was a remarkable man,
his personal magnetism was immense. He had a wonderful pair of dark
brown eyes – large,
mobile, luminous,
penetrating, yet
kindly." – Dr G. J. Low,
an early student at Huron (GwynneTimothy, 64).

Isaac Hellmuth was the Principal of Huron College before founding the Hellmuth Boys and Girls Colleges and Western University.

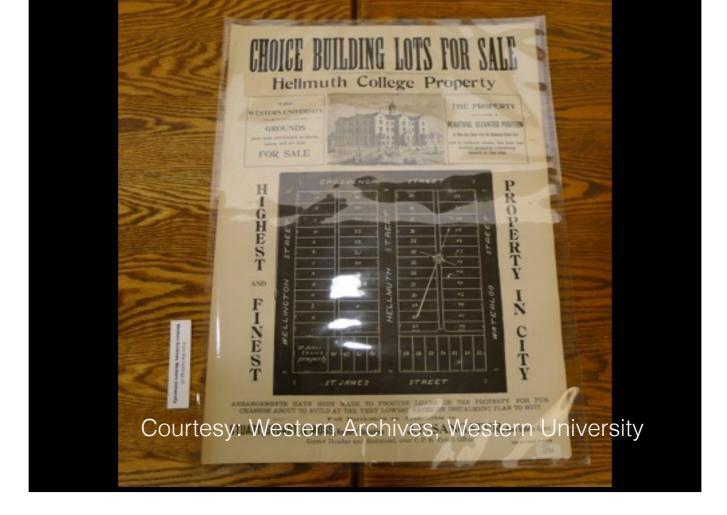

Situated on 10 acres (Gwynne-Timothy, 67), the College was a "four-storey white brick building and could accommodate 150 students and staff in more than 70 rooms." (Turner). c. 1875.

Pictured is a young Arthur Sweatman, around the time he was Principal of what became Hellmuth Boys College. Rev. Sweatman (1834 –1909) later served as Archbishop of Toronto, and Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada.

Here we can see cricket being played on the lawn of Hellmuth Boys College. Apart from a cricket field, the school's amenities included a gymnasium, a racket court, and a pond for swimming. (Joyce, At the Close of Play: The Evolution of Cricket in London Ontario, 1836-1902, 77).

In 1894, the College was demolished, and its property was subdivided. This area now forms the core of the Bishop Hellmuth Heritage Conservation District.

Heritage Places 2.0

LACH- June 13th, 2018

AMY BARNES, MA CAHP LETOURNEAU HERITAGE CONSULTING ABARNES@LHCHERITAGE.COM

Background

Main deliverables for Heritage Places 2.0

- -Carry out a best practice review;
- -Develop a methodology for identifying and prioritizing HCD's;
- -Carry out heritage-based research focused on culture, history, architecture and context of broader community pertinent to evaluation of cultural heritage resource;
- -Carry city-wide review of potential HCD's;
- -Engage and consult with key stakeholders; and
- -Carry our site visit;

Result: An update document entitled Heritage Place 2.0 Identifying Heritage Conservation Districts in the City of London, which includes a Strategic Prioritization Plan for the nomination of potential HCDs.

APPROACH

- Created an engagement plan;
- Master list of local key stakeholders was created;
- Pre-interviews and supplementary information forms;
- Round Table #1 May 1st, 2018.

 Helped understand the areas people agreed on having value and helped understand what properties people were unsure about or felt could be removed.
- Many places were added to list.
- Discussion about prioritization.
- Two one-on-one interviews were carried out. This helped understand certain potential HCD's and their potential values.
- Round Table #2- June 20th, from 6:30-8:30.
 - Goal is to refine the final list and extract more detailed information about each area.

Criteria

Since the development of the original Historic Places document in 1994, there have been significant shifts in heritage conservation planning theory and practice.

- Nara Document on Authenticity (1994),
- The 1999 Burra Charter (updated 2013),
- The Getty Conservation Institute research into values (1998-2005

This understanding is also reflected within Ontario heritage planning practice through the revisions to the Ontario Heritage Act in 2005, and the development of local and provincial designation criteria (O.Reg 9/06 and O.Reg 10/6.)

Criteria

Engagement

The Ontario Heritage Toolkit identifies that values are important to the identification of heritage conservation districts.

The cultural heritage value of individual sites can be expressed in terms of their design or physical, historical or associative or contextual values. The values that contribute to the character of heritage conservation districts may be expressed more broadly as natural, historic, aesthetic, architectural, scenic, scientific, cultural, social or spiritual value.

How the varying and changing combinations of values come together and the contexts they create give heritage districts their depth, richness and sense of time and or place. In the identification of these values and attributes that contribute to the district's overall character, it is important to understand that the value of the district as a whole is always greater than the sum of its parts.

The Ontario Toolkit specifically references the Historic Places Initiative as a potential model to assist with the identification of heritage values and attributes.

The HPI Statement of Significance Training Workbook and Resource Guide identifies a number of potential heritage values that can be applied to cultural heritage resources (including heritage conservation districts.)

- Historical
- Scientific
- Cultural
- Spiritual Aesthetic
- Educational
- Social
- Natural Contextual

Criteria

Drawing upon this information, and best practices from England, Toronto, Waterloo, and Oakville, we developed a chart outlining heritage values that can be used to evaluate potential HCDs.

The criteria as identified by the City of London in its Official Plan are also reflected in this approach, notably as types of illustrative attributes of these values. The proposed approach builds on these criteria.

In terms of an approach, each potential HCD would be evaluated using these criteria, and ranked High, Medium, Low, or No value. Although a subjective, qualitative approach, the intent is to show a level of magnitude (and comparative analysis) within the London context rather than a precise (numeric) ranking

LHC

576_ City Council will consider the following criteria in the evaluation of an area for designation as a heritage conservation district:

- The association of the area with a particular historical event or era that is unique to the community.
- The presence of properties which are considered significant to the community as a result of their location or setting.
- The presence of properties representing a design or method of construction which is considered to be of cultural heritage value or interest to the community, region, province, or nation.
- The presence of properties which collectively represent a certain aspect of the development of the city that is worthy of maintaining.
- The presence of physical, environmental, or aesthetic elements which, individually, may not constitute sufficient grounds for designation as a heritage conservation district, but which collectively are significant to the community.

Draft Criteria

value	mustrative Attributes
Historical/Associative Values	Direct association with a key individual Association with a key period, events, or themes in London's history The association of the area with a particular historical event or era that is unique to the community. The presence of properties which collectively represent a certain aspect of the development of the city that is worthy of maintaining.
Physical/Design Values	Cluster of heritage properties Architectural or design distinctiveness The presence of properties representing a design or method of construction which is considered to be of cultural heritage value or interest to the community, region, province, or nation.
Contextual Value	- Streetscape - Distinctive sense of place - The presence of properties which are considered significant to the community as a result of their location or setting The presence of physical, environmental, or aesthetic elements which, individually, may not constitute sufficient grounds for designation as a heritage conservation district, but which collectively are significant to the community.

Draft Criteria

Value	Illustrative Attributes
Spiritual Value	Association with a particular religious community Clusters of religious buildings/cemeteries, ceremonial or cosmological features etc. Oral tradition identifying significance
Educational and Scientific Value	 Teaching landscapes Significant presence of educational/ training facilities
Natural Values	 Natural features, EPAs The presence of environmental elements which, individually, may not constitute sufficient grounds for designation as a heritage conservation district, but which collectively are significant to the community.
Archaeological Value	 Known archaeological site Potential archaeological sites Known burials
Social Values	Contributes to a broader understanding of a way of life Contributes to the understanding or an underrepresented aspect or group in London's history Presence of memorial or symbolic elements within the landscape Area depicts a particular way of life

Prioritization

In terms of developing a prioritization matrix, we modelled our approach on a matrix we employed within the Town of Oakville for CHL identification. Based upon our experience, we are recommending keeping the prioritization criteria simple, and again, following in the evaluation criteria, should be an order of magnitude.

Consideration	Analysis (High, Medium, Low, Not recommended)
Result of the evaluation of
criteria
Potential for Change
Community Feedback
Applicability of Part V (HCD)
