What do you hope to contribute or learn as part of a Board or Commission?

On account of my service life in municipal government, I bring rich experience of civilian oversight of the City's Police force. I have been part of the supervisory teams dealing with law & order situations within municipal jurisdictions in the city and providing police forces with necessary approvals to control situations.

The terms law enforcement & policing are often used interchangeably but while discussing criminal justice systems the two concepts have big & wide differences. Law enforcement focuses on the letter of the law and implies compulsory compliance, while Policing's main focus is spirit of the law and suggests voluntary adherence.

Law enforcement is responding to crime without consideration for causes while policing is an approach to crime fighting through community service and problem-solving so when police fight with crime by taking community onboard, it encourages participation and ownership for all parties and helps foster trust between officers and the general public.

I have served as vice chair for the Community safety & Crime prevention advisory committee City of London for the 2019-2022 term. During our tenure we had numerous discussions with the communities/ community leaders & experts in the field how communities may play a vital role for a sustainable 'crime prevention' environment.

Keeping in view recent increasing crime rate, especially break in incidents and Londoners expectations from the police, being a member of the Police board, my efforts, aim and plan would be promoting community policing among communities in particular and society in general hence reducing crime through community partnerships at various levels.

How will you support the work of a Board or Commission?

Preventing the crime and catching the criminals within the shortest possible time is what citizens expect from the Police service. Keeping in view the rapid change in technologies our Police service also needs to be modernized/upgraded and equipped with latest technologies, skill sets and training from time to time. Sometimes we need more manpower and sometimes we need more advanced technologies, all these provisions need continuous and sometimes some extra one time financial support as well to meet with the challenges and come up to the expectations of Londoners.

Benchmarking, sharing best practices, continuous improvement & sustainability in public service has been my speciality. I believe in collective wisdom and intelligence. Using my background in municipal governance and exposure to the civilian oversight of Police service, I can understand the expectations of the Londoners and the challenges London Police service is facing hence by utilizing my research and analytical skills coupled with management, operations & negotiation expertise I will take fellow board members on-board to draft workable plans which may transform London Police Service into most effective City Police service in Canada.

3) Please describe additional experience, training, or community involvement that will help you in your role as a Board or Commission Member.

London has been my home for over a decade. During this time, I have always tried to contribute my diverse experience, exposure, community engagement skills and multilingual capabilities towards the betterment of this city & society by being an active member of the community.

Benchmarking & continuous improvement in public service has been my speciality. My formal educational background is in the field of mathematics/computer science and my experience has been managing public sector large organizations.

By utilizing my research and analytical skills coupled with management-operations & negotiation expertise I find unique solutions to difficult problems/challenges.
